

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

BLAISE D. RINGOR, Ph.D. (University of Santo Tomas, Philippines), is an assistant professor at the Institute of Religion of the University of Santo Tomas, where he is teaching Theology in the civil faculties and Philosophy in the Ecclesiastical Faculties. He is also a research fellow of the Research Center for Theology, Religious Studies, and Ethics at this university. He finished his M.A. in Philosophy and his Ph.D. at the same university. In 2023, he became an alumnus fellow of the Thomistic Institute at the Dominican House of Studies, Washington, D.C., U.S.A. He has presented papers at national and international conferences and written articles on personalist philosophy, particularly on Karol Wojtyła, John Henry Newman, Max Scheler, and Edith Stein. His recent publication is "Self-Gift and Gratitude: Karol Wojtyła's Personalist Ethics of Education," Wojtyła Studies 2, 1 (2025). His research interests are in Thomistic philosophy, phenomenology, and personalist philosophy.

CARL JAYSON D. HERNANDEZ, M.A. (University of Santo Tomas, Philippines) is a faculty member of the Department of Philosophy at Ateneo de Manila University, where he teaches core philosophy courses to undergraduate students of the Loyola Schools. He also serves as part-time faculty in the Department of Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas (UST). He earned his AB in Philosophy from the Immaculate Conception Major Seminary and his MA in Philosophy from UST, where he is presently pursuing his PhD in Philosophy. He has published several articles in international journals; his latest publication is "Camusian Rebellious Intra-Religious Dialogue: A Proposed Adaptive Coping Strategy for Religious Hybrids," Pastoral Psychology (2025), published by Springer. His research interests include existential aesthetics, philosophy and fiction, philosophy of religion, existentialism, social epistemology, and the thought of Albert Camus.

CONCORDIA MARIE A. LAGASCA-HILOMA, M.A. (University of the Philippines), teaches Ethics and Philosophy at Isabela State University–Cauayan City Campus. She is an Associate Member of the National Research Council of the Philippines and a member of the Philosophical Association of the Philippines, the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, and the Philippine Association for Communication and Media Research. An active member of the Network of Asian Environmental Philosophy, she has co-organized its annual online symposium since 2020. She also serves as managing editor of the SUKISOK Journal of the Arts and Sciences. She has published articles in international journals; the latest is a co-authored article, "Environmental philosophy in Asia: Between Eco-orientalism and Ecological Nationalisms," Environmental Values 34, 1 (2025). Her research interests include environmental philosophy, philosophy of language, digital ethics, media ethics, and Filipino social thought.

HAZEL T. BIANA, Ph.D. (De La Salle University, Manila) is a Professor of Philosophy at De La Salle University, Manila, Philippines, and a research fellow at the Southeast Asia Research Center and Hub and the Social Development Research Center. She is also an active member of the Global Feminist Artificial Intelligence Research Network, where she explores feminist perspectives on technology. A well-published researcher, one of her latest articles is "The Need for Assisted Reproductive Technology Regulations: A Case for Women in the Philippines," Frontiers in Sociology 10 (2025). Her interdisciplinary approach to research combines feminist theory and cultural criticism to create real-world impact.

IVAN EFREAIM A. GOZUM, M.A. (Holy Angel University) is a college instructor at the Institute of Religion of the University of Santo Tomas, Manila, where he obtained his Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy. He is currently doing his Doctorate in Philosophy, majoring in Theology. As an emerging scholar, he has presented his papers at local and international conferences and has published articles in academic journals, locally and internationally. His recent publication is a co-authored article, "Encountering the Other in the Digital Sphere: Emmanuel Levinas' 'Ethics of the Face'" and the Implications for Virtual Healthcare Ethics in Contemporary Society," Journal of Religion and Health (2015), published by Springer Nature. His research interests include family studies, philosophy of religion, medieval philosophy, Gabriel Marcel, Thomas Aquinas, and Karol Wojtyla.

JOSEPH A. GUILLERMO, M.A. (University of Santo Tomas, Philippines) is teaching philosophy at St. Anthony Mary Claret College and St. Thomas of Villanova Institute, Quezon City, Philippines. He is currently affiliated as a PhD Candidate and researcher at the Philosophy Department of the Ateneo de Manila University where he is a recipient of a Doctoral Scholarship for Graduate Education. He is the Secretary of the Philippine National Philosophical Research Society. He has presented papers on contemporary Filipino political culture and identity at local and international conferences. His essay "Los Esclavos de Hoy, Los Tiranos de Mañana: Human Rights as Resistance to Colonization and as a Promise for a Common World" is part of the collection of The Palgrave Handbook on Decoloniality in Asia (2025). His research interest is on Hannah Arendt's theory of "Reflective Judgment" and its relationship to democratic thinking and political life.

JOVE JIM AGUAS, Ph.D. (University of Santo Tomas, Philippines) is a Professor of Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas. He is also a research faculty at the Center for Theology, Religious Studies, and Ethics of UST. He is the Executive Governor of the Philippine National Philosophical Research Society and the Editor-in-Chief of this journal. His publications include Person, Action and Love: The Philosophical Thoughts of Karol Wojtyla (2014) and The Good and Happy Life: An Introduction to Ethical Systems (2019). He has published articles in international journals. Two of his recent publications are "The Body and Marcel's Notion of Embodied Subjectivity," Kritike: An Online Journal of Philosophy 18, 4 (2025), and "Martin Buber's Philosophical Anthropology and Philosophy of Dialogue," Kritike: An Online Journal of Philosophy 19, 1 (2025). He received the Dangal ng UST Hall of Fame Award in 2016. He delivered the Annual Karol Wojtyła Lectures in 2023 at the John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Poland.

MARK ANTONY JALALUM, M.A. (Ateneo de Manila University, Philippines) is a philosophy instructor at the Xavier University-Ateneo de Cagayan, Cagayan de Oro City, where he earned his B.A. in philosophy. He is currently a Ph.D. Candidate in Philosophy at The Chinese University of Hong Kong. He published an article, "Can Wuwei and Ziran Authorise Anticipation?: Death, Desire, and Autonomy in the Zhuangzi," Journal of East Asian Philosophy 4, 1 (2024), and served as Editorial Assistant in the International Journal of Social Imaginaries. His research interests include Hegel, Husserl, Derrida, Gadamer, imagination, and language.

RANIEL S.M. REYES, Ph.D. (University of Santo Tomas, Philippines) is a Professor of philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila. He is also a Research Fellow at the Research Center for Culture, Arts, and Humanities at the same university. He is one of the Managing Editors of Kritike: An Online Journal of Philosophy. He has presented papers at both national and international conferences. He has published articles in international journals, and his latest publication is "Chaosophy: Chaos, Chaosis, and Precarious Ethics," Kritike: An Online Journal of Philosophy 18, 4 (2025). His research interests are: Gilles Deleuze, Felix Guattari, Franco Berardi, Friedrich Nietzsche, German and French Critical Theory, Existentialism, and Buddhism.

VIRGILIO RIVAS, Ph.D. (University of Santo Tomas, Philippines) is a Professor of Philosophy at the Department of Philosophy and Humanities of the Polytechnic University of the Philippines. He is a member of the New Centre for Research and Practice (U.S.A.) and an affiliate researcher of the Ecosophy and Educational Research for the Anthropocene: Rethinking Research through Relational Psychoanalytic Approaches (Japan/Australia). He has published several articles in international journals, and his latest publication is "Bernard Stiegler and Aesthetic Technê," Educational Philosophy and Theory 57, 5 (2025). His research interests straddle between German Idealism (Schelling) and Deleuze Studies, ecological philosophy, posthumanist studies, cultural studies, theoretical sociology, psychoanalysis, and feminism.

YUWEN SUN, D.M.A. (University of Minnesota, U.S.A.) is a mezzo-soprano, educator, and scholar from Nanjing, China. She has performed leading mezzo-soprano roles in major European venues and international opera programs, including the Musikverein Vienna, the Estates Theatre in Prague and the Berlin Opera Academy. Dr. Sun holds a Doctor of Musical Arts in Vocal Performance, with a minor in Speech-Language-Hearing Sciences. Her research interests include voice science, vocology, and the intersection of Western operatic singing with Chinese phonetic and cultural contexts. Her professional engagements span classical and contemporary operatic repertoire, with recent performances including Dorabella in Così fan tutte (Musikverein, Vienna, 2024), Orphée in Orphée aux enfers (Berlin Opera Academy, 2023), and Cherubino in Le nozze di Figaro (Estates Theatre, Prague, 2022). Additional leading roles include Orlofsky in Die Fledermaus and Ramiro in La finta giardiniera. Her work integrates operatic performance with interdisciplinary research, advancing a practice rooted in both artistry and pedagogy.

YANG JIN, Ph.D. (Philippine Women's University, Philippines) is a professor of Music Philosophy at Huzhou University in Huzhou. She received her degree from the School of Music at the Women's University of the Philippines in July 2023 and holds certification as a senior psychological counselor from the Personnel Network of the Chinese Ministry of Social Security. She has published several academic papers and is the author of Exploration and Research on the Diversity of Ethnic Music in Southern China. She has led and completed national, provincial, and ministerial research and education projects. Her artistic achievements have been recognized with the "Drama Star" Director Award, jointly conferred by the China Federation of Literary and Art Circles, the Ministry of Education, and the China Theatre Association, as well as the Creative Guidance Award, awarded by four state agencies including the Ministry of Culture and the State Administration of Press, Publication, Radio, Film and Television. Her works, Appreciation of Chinese Huangmei Opera Plays and Teaching and Appreciation of Huangmei Opera Classic Vocals, have been designated as national high-quality open video courses in China.